- Stefan Mücke: "We were really impressed by his performance at the test and are sure that we can achieve good results with him right from the start in his first year of GT4 racing"

BWT Mücke Motorsport's squad of drivers in the ADAC GT4 Germany is now complete as UAE based British driver Alex Connor prepares to switch from formula to GT racing for the 2023 season and line up alongside the Norwegian Emil Gjerdrum in a Mercedes-AMG GT4 to contest the ADAC GT4 Germany. Apart from the pairing of Connor and Gjerdrum, BWT Mücke Motorsport will have another car on the grid with Rodrigo Almeida from Mozambique and Czech driver Josef Knopp sharing the drive.

Alex was able to gain some initial experience with the team and their new GT4 sports car this February during testing at the Jerez de la Frontera track in Spain.

After winning championship titles in karting, Connor switched to formula racing in 2019 and promptly came second in the Rookie Cup of the British F4 Championship. He was promoted to the BRDC GB3 (formerly British Formula 3 Championship) in 2021 after a second season in Formula 4 and immediately claimed three podiums. He finished on the podium in GB3 again last year and this season will make his debut in a GT4 racing car prepared by BWT Mücke Motorsport.

The season-opener will be held on the weekend of 26-28 May in the Motorsport Arena Oschersleben. Five more race weekends will then follow at Zandvoort, at the Nürburgring, Lausitzring and Sachsenring with the finale set to take place at the Hockenheimring. SPORT1 will broadcast all of the ADAC GT4 Germany races live on German TV.

Alex Connor: "I'll be facing a fresh challenge this season as I make the switch to GT racing, so I'm delighted to have the support of BWT Mücke Motorsport, who are a very experienced, successful team. I will be racing under a UAE flag and I'm extremely proud this year to have been asked to represent such a well-established team, for which so many famous drivers have competed in the past and look forward to achieving good results along with Emil. I'm really excited about the prospect of being able to compete at amazing grand prix circuits like the Nürburgring, Zandvoort and Hockenheim this season."

Stefan Mücke: "We are very pleased to have Alex on board, who completes our squad of drivers for the ADAC GT4 Germany. We're ready now and getting excited about the season kicking off at the end of May. Alex has already shown his talent at the wheel of a racing car in both karting and in single seater racing these past few years. Alex has proven his talent at the wheel of a race car in both karting and single-seater racing over the past few years and also convinced our team during his test at Jerez - even though it was only his second time behind the wheel of a GT4 car. We were really impressed by his performance at the test and are sure that we can achieve good results with him right from the start in his first year of GT4 racing. He absolutely has the potential to be a front-runner."
